SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Connecting senior level online community and customer experience professionals in small, trusted groups for one of silence conversation about the toughest issues we all face. Sponsors aren't just pushing their products they're actively participating in the community.

Dinner5 is a monthly event series (gone virtual through the pandemic) bringing together senior online community and customer experience leaders for conversation, connection, and camaraderie. The event consists of 5 attendees, tasty snacks mailed shortly before the event, and group support for about two hours mid-day.

Dinner5 is hosted by The Community Guy, Jake McKee. Jake is a 20+ year veteran of the community and customer experience space and CEO of Jake McKee Consulting.

SPONSORSHIP MECHANICS

Dinner5 events are highly curated and tightly controlled to ensure that we live up to the promise we make to our attendees: a safe space to talk openly with fellow senior industry peers. Sponsors play an important role in making Dinner5 possible, and that fact is shared clearly with attendees. Attendees are senior level decision makers, so this respectful, hands-off approach to sponsorship drives better connection to and brand affinity for your company.

SPONSORSHIP BENEFITS

- Sponsor mentions before, during, and after the event to attendees and social networks
- Event materials include sponsor logo placements
- Social media and email promotional mentions before and after the event
- Access to quarterly insights report that shares anonymized insights about the challenges and issues that senior leaders are facing
- Deep, direct influence on senior decision makers

SPONSORSHIP COSTS

Full Sponsor: $2500 per event

Exclusive sponsorship rights to the event with sponsorship mentions during pre- and post-event promotion, as well as at the event start and finish. Access to quarterly insights report.

Partial Sponsor: $250 - $2500 per event

A range of options exist for Partial Sponsors, depending on the sponsorship level. Partial Sponsorships limited based on each event.
